

Need another word that means the same as “caught off guard”? Find 30 related words for “caught off guard” in this overview.

Table Of Contents:

- Associations of "Caught off guard" \(30 Words\)

Associations of "Caught off guard" (30 Words)

|                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| abolish                   | Do away with.Slavery was abolished in the mid 19th century in America and in Russia.                                                                                     |
| aegis     | The protection, backing, or support of a particular person or organization.The negotiations were conducted under the aegis of the UN.                                    |
| bodyguard | A person or group of people employed to escort and protect an important or famous person.                                                                                                  |
| chaperone                 | Accompany as a chaperone.Chaperones sat at the edge of the dance gossiping and watching.                                                                                 |
| convoy                    | A collection of merchant ships with an escort of warships.A convoy of lorries.                                                                                           |
| defence                   | The team that is trying to prevent the other team from scoring.The farmer s defence was that he intended only to wound the thief.                                        |
| defend    | Conduct the case for (the party being accused or sued) in a lawsuit.They were forced to defend for long periods.                                                         |
| defense                   | A defendant’s answer or plea denying the truth of the charges against him.He joined the defense against invasion.                                                        |
| defensible                | Justifiable by argument.A fort with a defensible yard at its feet.                                                                                                       |
| denial    | Refusal to acknowledge someone as one’s leader.It resulted in a complete denial of his privileges.                                                                       |
| dragnet                   | A net drawn through a river or across ground to trap fish or game.Caught in the police dragnet.                                                                          |
| helmet                    | A hard or padded protective hat, various types of which are worn by soldiers, police officers, motorcyclists, sports players, and others.                                                  |
| missile                   | An object which is forcibly propelled at a target, either by hand or from a mechanical weapon.One of the players was hit on the head by a missile thrown by a spectator. |

|                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|--------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| police      | Members of a police force.When someone is killed the police have to be informed.                                                                                                                                    |
| protect     | Use tariffs to favor domestic industry.Security products are designed to protect information from unauthorized access.                                                                                              |
| protecting  | Shielding (or designed to shield) against harm or discomfort.The protecting blanket of snow.                                                                                                                        |
| protector   | A person who cares for persons or property.Ear protectors.                                                                                                                                                          |
| refutation  | The speech act of answering an attack on your assertions.His refutation of the charges was short and persuasive.                                                                                                    |
| rescission  | The act of rescinding; the cancellation of a contract and the return of the parties to the positions they would have had if the contract had not been made.The plaintiff agreed to the rescission of the agreement. |
| safe        | Strongbox where valuables can be safely kept.His world it s safe to say will not fall apart.                                                                                                                        |
| safeguard   | Protect from harm or damage with an appropriate measure.An insurance policy is a good safeguard.                                                                                                                    |
| safely      | In a way that gives protection from danger or risk.All of us have a responsibility to drive safely.                                                                                                                 |
| security    | A department responsible for the security of the institution s property and workers.Amid tight security the presidents met in the Colombian resort.                                                                 |
| sentry      | A soldier stationed to keep guard or to control access to a place.Two men stood sentry on the door every evening.                                                                                                   |
| shelter     | Provide shelter for.Only your rental income can be sheltered.                                                                                                                                                       |
| tenable     | Able to be maintained or defended against attack or objection.Such a simplistic approach is no longer tenable.                                                                                                      |
| territorial | Nonprofessional soldier member of a territorial military unit.The gerbils territorial behaviour.                                                                                                                    |
| ward        | The grooves in the bit of a key that correspond to the wards in a lock.The second most marginal ward in Westminster.                                                                                                |
| watchman    | A man employed to look after an empty building, especially at night.A night watchman.                                                                                                                               |